Disclosures Common To All Share Accounts

Nature of Dividends

Dividends are paid from current income and available earnings, after required transfers to reserves at the end of a dividend period. The dividend rate and annual percentage yield (APY) on all share accounts may change every quarter at the sole discretion of our Board of Directors.

Compounding and Crediting

Dividends will be compounded quarterly and will be credited quarterly. For these accounts, the dividend period is quarterly. For example, the beginning date of the first dividend period of the calendar year 2020, is January 1, 2020 and the ending date of such dividend period is March 31, 2020. All other dividend periods follow this same pattern of dates. The dividend declaration date is the ending date of a dividend period, and for the example is March 31, 2020.

Balance Computation Method

Dividends are calculated by the average daily balance method which applies a periodic rate to the average daily balance in the account for the period. The average daily balance is calculated by adding the balance in the account for each day of the period and dividing that figure by the number of days in the period.

Accrual of Dividends on Non-Cash Deposits

Dividends will begin to accrue on the business day you deposit non-cash items (e.g. checks) to your account, except when deposited at an Automated Teller Machine (ATM) or at our night depository. Dividends will begin to accrue the next business day when deposited at an ATM or at our night depository.

Account Restrictions and Features

No more than $500 per day may be withdrawn by a FAX request.

There are daily Debit card withdrawal and purchase limits. Refer to the Separate Rate & Fee Schedule and Electronic Funds Transfer Agreement for these limitations.

Bylaw Requirements

Shares may be transferred only from one member to another, by written instrument in such a form as the credit union may prescribe.

The credit union reserves the right (except in the case of Checking Account), at any time, to require members to give, in writing, not less than seven, nor more than 60 days notice of intention to withdraw the whole or any part of the amounts so paid in by them. No member may withdraw shareholdings that are pledged as required security on loans without the written approval of the Credit Committee or a Loan Officer, except to the extent that such shares exceed the member's total primary and contingent liability to the credit union. No member may withdraw any shareholdings below the amount of his/her primary or contingent liability to the credit union without the written approval of the Credit Committee or Loan Officer, if he/she is delinquent as a borrower, or if borrowers for whom he/she is co-maker, endorser, or guarantor are delinquent.
